Accounts and Passwords – CampusID

Please note that the CampusID password management site at campusid.gsu.edu (http://campusid.gsu.edu) has recently been updated. In addition to an updated interface, new features such as SMS Text Messages for Password Recovery (http://technology.gsu.edu/campusid-sms) are now available. Additionally, the required length of passwords has changed from 8 to 10 characters to better ensure your security. To review the changes, visit campusid.gsu.edu (http://campusid.gsu.edu).

Your CampusID is the account name you use to sign in to the majority of technology systems at Georgia State University, including campus email, the Desire2Learn learning management system, and others.

Your CampusID is also the first part of your official Georgia State email address (CampusID@gsu.edu for faculty/staff and CampusID@student.gsu.edu for students).

Activating Your CampusID Password

All new students, faculty, and staff receive a CampusID. However, you must first activate a password in order to use your CampusID to log in to systems. To activate your CampusID, you must sign in to the CampusID Password Management system, set up your security questions and answers profile, and set up an initial password that you will use to log in to campus systems.
